Psalm XVI. 1-11.

The Lord is my light and salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When the enemy threatened, then did I set myself in陣守; when my soul was overwhelmed within me; then was I also in阵守, I said, "Because of thee, 0 Lord, will I not be afraid." To the righteous, thou art a shield, a buckler; to the wicked, a snare. And in thy patience hast thou exalted me above those that trust in their riches. I will sing praise unto the Lord, for he hath dealt bountifully with me in a city of salvation. I will call upon the Lord, who is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; my God, in whom I trust; he shall deliver me from the hand of my enemies. The Lord is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; my God, in whom I trust; he shall deliver me from the hand of my enemies.

A Confession for all Clases.

O Lord, God in Christ Jesus, we confes and lament our sins, and we beseech you, our Lord, to have mercy on our souls. And the Lord shall forgive our transgressions.

A Prayer against the Devil, and his wicked temptations, made by S. Augustine.

Here we are present, but not present; for we are not in this world, but above it. And he that is above all worlds, he is God, and he that is in this world, he is not God. For he that is above all worlds, he is not in this world. And he that is in this world, he is not in this world. For he that is above all worlds, he is not in this world. And he that is in this world, he is not in this world. For he that is above all worlds, he is not in this world. And he that is in this world, he is not in this world. For he that is above all worlds, he is not in this world. And he that is in this world, he is not in this world.
